

FACES OF LODO

PETER KLANN LITTLE RAVEN VINEYARDS

“LoDo-ites” tend to be adventurous. We pioneer where we live, work or shop. “The usual” leaves us cold...the unusual elevates our spirit.

Peter Klann, owner of Little Raven Vineyards and certified sommelier, exemplifies the spirit of LoDo. The last twenty years of his life have been “an adventure in wine”, culminating in the creation of an intimate and accessible wine shop that, according to Klann, offers a “collection of wines to discover” and a “gathering place for the neighborhood”. The racks of Little Raven Vineyards display little known (but not necessarily expensive) vintages. This is because Klann believes that “wine drinking is a journey...an exploration.” To that end he searches the world for wines that his customers will enjoy as much as finding a secluded beach or yet-to-be discovered bistro. Many of his wines come with unusual stories such as “Chateau La Paws” a delicious white from Rosenblum Cellars, where a percentage of revenue helps needy pet owners obtain veterinary care for their companions.

Join Peter on his journey. Stop into Little Raven Vineyards, 1590 Little Raven Street in Riverfront Park, for a unique bottle, suggestions on wine and food pairings, or a chat with Peter and his customers about the wines they’ve been enjoying.
