FACES OF LODO

Dave Moore

Dave Moore has been a fixture in LoDo since he arrived in Denver from Milwaukee in 1994 to help guide the development of Coors Field. As "Development Director," he worked diligently to make sure the new ballpark had a positive impact on the surrounding neighborhood and community. But now, after 40 years in baseball and service to the community, Dave is hanging up his Rockies hat and retiring.

Dave will tell you that Coors Field will become known as one of the best ball parks in the Country, and that Denver has the best summer baseball weather of just about anywhere. But what he says will really stay with him from his Denver time is the way Coors Field has become part of the neighborhood fabric. He loves that has become so well situated within Denver's vibrant downtown core.

Over the years, Dave served on both the Ballpark District and the LoDo District organizations. At LoDo, Dave was as an officer on the Executive Committee since 2001, and President during 2004 and 2005. Dave feels that the LoDo District has become much more focused during recent years, providing a positive advocacy role on Denver Union Station, transportation, and the vitality of LoDo. He is most proud of expanding the committee structure and getting more people involved.

Hopefully, we will still see Dave around LoDo and Coors Field as an active Face in the crowd. But it's more likely you would find him on a farm tractor outside a small Wisconsin town, tending to his cattle and his grandkids. We will miss you Dave!
