

Faces of LoDo

The Wine Loft

Aaron Anderson, right – Owner / Proprietor

Brian Borowski, left and shorter – Front House Manager / GM

If you haven't tried the Wine Loft at 1527 Wazee Street lately, you should. This neighborhood bar opened a week before the Democratic National Convention in 2008 and has become a popular gathering place for LoDo locals and visitors alike. The operators, father and son Tom and Aaron Anderson, relied on Midwestern roots and many trips to Colorado to chose Denver to open two Wine Loft concept bars, and they selected LoDo as the place for their downtown location, just in time for the party of the century! What great timing!

From the beginning, their concept has been to offer an alternative to clubs and sports bars with an adult ambiance. It seems to be a solid fit for LoDo. They do have one TV, but mostly for the big games. “What the heck”, says Front House and General Manager Brian Borowski, “we have to respect the market, and this is definitely a sports town.”

Brian states that “LoDo has a vibrant sense of aesthetic and energy, combining preservation and planning for the future.” He loves Denver’s diversity, “drawing people from both coasts and the Midwest to a young city with incredible weather, a sophisticated appreciation for good wine and good beer, great sports, and now a great new neighborhood bar.”

The Wine Loft offers 40 wines by the glass, 75 wines by the bottle, delicious small plates, and carefully selected bottled beers.

Get to know Aaron, Brian and other Faces of Lodo. Call 303-628-5428 or email info@lodo.org for membership information.